List new courses required for the new or revised curriculum. How do they support the overall program objectives of the major/minor/concentrations)?

(Be aware that approval of the curriculum is dependent upon these courses successfully passing through the Course Challenge list. If there are no new courses enter "None")

None

Explain, when appropriate, how this new/revised curriculum supports the 10 goals of undergraduate education: <http://www.ugs.udel.edu/gened/>

Identify other units affected by the proposed changes:

(Attach permission from the affected units. If no other unit is affected, enter "None")

None

Describe the rationale for the proposed program change(s):

(Explain your reasons for creating, revising, or deleting the curriculum or program.)

The revision allows Anthropology minors to count one course in Anthropology at the one hundred level towards the minor requirements. This makes the minor requirements comparable to the major requirements that currently allow one hundred level classes. Many of our students become minors after taking one of our one hundred level courses to meet a group or multicultural requirement. The current requirements for the minor mean that the majority of students who minor in Anthropology must in effect take 21 credits rather than 18 credits (because they discover Anthropology through a 100 level class). Other majors in social sciences allow introductory (100-level) courses to count towards the minor.

Program Requirements:

(Show the new or revised curriculum as it should appear in the Course Catalog. If this is a revision, be sure to indicate the changes being made to the current curriculum and include a side-by-side comparison of the credit distribution before and after the proposed change.)

OLD LANGUAGE: Students wishing to minor in anthropology must complete 18 credits in anthropology courses distributed as follows: 6 credits in 200-level courses and 12 credits in 300- and 400- level courses.

NEW LANGUAGE: Students wishing to minor in anthropology must complete 18 credits in anthropology courses distributed as follows: 6 credits in 100- and 200-level courses, of which only 3 credits may be at the 100-level and 12 credits in 300- and 400-level courses.
