Re: MA of Social Studies in World History

I confirm that the College of Arts and Sciences supports the proposed MA of Social Studies in World History. Specifically I write to affirm the following:

1. That the College of Arts and Sciences and the Department of History support the budget model that uses participating student tuition to pay for the s-contract overloads that would incur when full-time faculty teach these courses.
2. That the College of Arts and Sciences and the Department of History are in agreement that the administrative support for this program will be provided by current staff in the Department of History and the College.

This confirmation comes with the affirmation of Matt Kinservik, Associate Dean for the Humanities, and John Hurt, Chair of the Department of History.
