

Shenton, Tripp

From: Williams, Kirk R. <kirkw@art-sci.udel.edu>
Sent: Monday, December 17, 2012 2:13 PM
To: Shenton, Tripp
Subject: RE: Request for approval of course(s) for new minor

Dear Tripp,

I do not recall whether I responded to this request, but I definitely approve the inclusion of SOCI471 Disasters, Vulnerability and Development being included in the proposed minors in sustainable infrastructure and environmental sustainability. I wish you well with these proposals.

Best, Kirk

Professor and Chair
Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice
University of Delaware
Newark, DE 19716
(302) 831-2581
kirkw@udel.edu

From: Shenton, Tripp [<mailto:shenton@UDel.Edu>]
Sent: Tuesday, December 04, 2012 12:04 PM
To: Williams, Kirk Ralph
Cc: Shenton, Tripp
Subject: Request for approval of course(s) for new minor
Importance: High

Dear Kirk,

The Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering is proposing to two new minors, one in "Sustainable Infrastructure" and one in "Environmental Sustainability." The brief proposals are attached for your reference.

As you will see, for the "Sustainable Infrastructure" minor we will require the students to choose 3 "breadth" classes from a list of 14. Included in the breadth list are:
SOCI471 Disasters, Vulnerability and Development

For the "Environmental Sustainability" minor we will require the students to choose 2 "breadth" classes from a list of 9. Included in the breadth list are:
SOCI471 Disasters, Vulnerability and Development

At this time we expect the number of students in each minor at any one time to run between 10 and 20, thus with the large number of choices from the breadth lists we expect the impact on classes sizes to be minimal.

We would appreciate your support of these new minors by approving our request to include the above listed courses in the proposal.

Thank you very much

Tripp Shenton

Harry W. "Tripp" Shenton III, Ph.D.
Professor and Chair
Department of Civil and Env. Engineering
301-B Dupont Hall
University of Delaware
Newark, Delaware 19716
(302)831-2447
(302)831-3640 Fax
Email: shenton@udel.edu